"They are the modern-time miracle workers who keep us in top shape, inside and out."

(Excerpted from Dr. Khan's interviews)

"I enjoy helping people. It's one of the things that inspired me to become a dentist. When you're able to see a patient relieved of pain or improve a smile through cosmetic dentistry, it makes you feel really good.

Conversations with patients are a highlight of my job. We're about more than just fixing teeth - we build rapport and get to know our patients on a personal level.

I love to concentrate my efforts on cosmetic dentistry - straightening teeth with Invisalign (invisible braces) or placing porcelain veneers to create brighter and straighter smiles.

We get a great deal of satisfaction out of seeing the change cosmetic dentistry procedures can have on a person who hides their teeth because they are embarrassed by their smile. When they are done and are able to smile comfortably, it's a big deal to us and makes us very happy in return.

A lot of people fear dentists, so we go above and beyond the call of duty to make their visits a soothing experience. We can even work together with a dentist anesthesiologist to provide safe, comfortable sedation for dental procedures, if needed.

Patients come first. I'm never averse to taking a phone call on a Saturday. In fact, I have a meeting today after hours to fix a fractured tooth.

We are a very caring, compassionate, and gentle dental team that aspires to make everyone feel proud of their smile. We cater to cowards and try to treat everyone with great care."
